The Career Advisory Team conducts sessions in batches and address the students from diversified streams of Natural Science in the Department.

Dr. Sumana K, Training & Placement officer addresses the students about the courses available and the higher studies that can be availed through various platforms. The competitive examinations that can be attempted and the trainings available to get through the exams and reach the goals were highlighted. The session focused on networking with ALUMNI that facilitates interactions and the knowledge on industry trends and career pathways that ensure to achieve the set goals. She emphasised on the sessions organised by the committee on soft skills, leadership, group discussion and critical thinking that are a part of personality development that fine-tunes the professional requirement for placement. Organising comprehensive training programmes with a focus on communication, teamwork, problem solving etc., are the strengths of the committee that serves for preparing the candidates for successful placements in different firms and also to achieve the professional aspirations.

Mr. Chidananda Murthy discussed about the courses available in the institute and the career opportunities pertaining to the course and the eligibilities to qualify the specific job roles and the positions in any corporate sectors. The session highlighted on the strengths and the weakness of the candidate that needs to be addressed while choosing the career path that leads to achieve the goal. The session focused on start-up and entrepreneurship that can be aspired.

Ms. Kavitha spoke about the higher education and the avenues to get into the higher studies and the opportunities in India and overseas. She also emphasised on the Universities and the Research Institutes the JSS AHER, Mysuru is in MOU with and the facilities to avail to plan for higher education. The session also made aware that the availability of professional experienced mentors that can connect to students for their support and guidance.

OVERVIEW:

The sessions were found very informative in the broad spectrum of career paths, avenues and opportunities. The committee justified their roles in conveying the information about the service rendered and was found worthwhile about the training and placements activities offered and to conclude the participants were found optimistic and receptive.
