

The Division of Languages, SLS, Mysuru conducted a special lecture on “Professional Communication for Life Science students” on 6th April 2026 at the SLS, Mysuru campus. The session was delivered by Mr. H.V. Vishvesh, founder Arivu Skill Academy, Mysuru. The session began with an impromptu extempore session where several students enthusiastically participated and addressed the gathering. Mr. Vishvesh spoke about professional skills required in the corporate world, like positive thinking and visualization. He stressed the importance of body language in interpersonal communication at the workplace. He also spoke about how procrastination was the main reason behind several employees being laid off. The session was attended by 100 students from 6th semester across all the life science departments.

Interactive session with students

Mr. H.V. Vishvesh conducting the special lecture titled, ‘Professional Communication for Life Science students’