

WORLD ANATOMY DAY- Dissection Competition

Department of Anatomy, JSS Medical College had organized “Dissection competition” for 1st MBBS students on 11th November 2021 to Celebrate WORLD ANATOMY DAY. Table wise dissection competition was conducted & the topics, rules & regulations were announced earlier and on the day of competition they were allowed to pick the chit for topics to avoid bias. Topics for dissection was chosen based on the difficulty level and to maintain the uniformity among all tables same difficulty level topics were selected. Students were asked to nominate 4 from each table to dissect & remaining 16 students were asked to prepare handouts (charts, e poster, models etc) pertaining to the topic. Students were given 90 minutes to dissect & display the contents. Students displayed the contents & handouts and explained regarding their topic to judges. Competition was judged by Dr.N.M. Shamasundar, Senior Professor of Anatomy and Dr. Seema Deepak, Professor of Anatomy, Mysore Medical College, Mysore. The dissected specimen & handouts were judged based on quality of dissection (neatness, visibility & visual appeal), degree of damage to structures, teamwork, Innovation, and presentation skills. Students participated in the competition enthusiastically and their efforts was appreciated by external judge. Dr.Seema mentioned that the dissection was very good and it was unimaginable that the dissection was by UG students. Table 1 , 4 & 6 bagged 1st, 2nd & 3rd prize respectively. The prize distribution ceremony was graced by Dr.Suma.M.N, Vice principal & Mr.Satish Chandra.S.R.
